TOUCHDOWN! John Powley, big left end for the Blue and White, scooped in this Bob Hartnett aerial for Warren's lone score in their 7-6 defeat to Corry at War Memorial field Saturday afternoon. The play covered 29 yards. It was the season opener for Coach Fred Bell's eleven and snapped a 17 game win streak.

NO DICE. The Blue and White footballers said no dice when Corry attempted this fourth quarter touchdown from the one-yard stripe. Pile-ups like this were not uncommon in the game.

DRAGON GRIDMEN have their spirits lifted by the inspiring cheers led by these girls.

SMALL BUT RUGGED, back John Berdine bowled this Corryite out-of-bounds on the one yard line in the final period Saturday. The Dragon line stopped a plunge on the following fourth down.

FLOODS, AIRPORT, CIVIL SERVICE RESULTS, AMBULANCE PROBLEM

Three possible solutions to the constant flooding of the Indian Run area were mentioned by Borough Engineer Robert DeBell at Monday's council meeting. The proposals have been submitted to the state as a basis on which to work. They include improvement of the present channel, creating a piped drain down Roy and on to the Conewango Creek, or a route directly down the hill east of Fifth to Conewango Creek. In the last plan the present channel would be retained to handle an overflow. A pipe would be run into the ground back of the homes along the Avenue.

Mr. DeBell also reported that the state hopes to start working on the lower portion of Glade Run this fall, and hopes to do the upper portion next spring. He acknowledged the receipt of a petition from 150 residents of the Indian Run area who apparently want to know when they are going to get something a little more tangible than talk from the state.

Mr. DeBell said that meetings had been held with state officials, state men have been in Warren to look at the streams, plans for Glade run were forwarded several weeks ago, and plans for Indian Run would be sent within ten days. He said the state is tied up with projects in other areas which resulted from previous floods.

Leroy Schneck read a review of a survey made by the Warren Chamber of Commerce airport committee which revealed that most of thirty-five industries contacted would like to have the present airport maintained and kept open. Five of them will buy planes if the port is repaired. Industry also is willing to pay at least half of the $8,000 to $10,000 needed to repair the runways.

Council voted to empower the proper officials to enter into lease agreements for the use of the port. A month ago it did the same in respect to an Ohio man who had expressed his wish to lease the port.

Council approved the results of civil service examinations held for policemen and firemen. W. E. Hewitt and Howard Ristau were made sergeants as the result of their high marks. Charles Dorotics was approved as a probationary patrolman.

Leon H. Mintzer led the firemen's examination and was named assistant chief. Erma Fitzgerald was advanced to captain. This terminated the temporary status of David Main as captain.

Councilman Miller reported that his ambulance committee had been notified that a citizens committee had submitted a report on the ambulance problem. The report suggested that the ambulance service is a borough council responsibility, that a volunteer arrangement would not be efficient, and that a mill of tax would finance the cost. It was referred to the borough's ambulance committee for study.

Engineer DeBell told council of a federal law which provides funds for disposal plants. The help amounts to fifty per cent or a maximum of about $200,000. President Laskaris appointed Councilmen Frantz, Torrance, Merenick, Emery, and Patchen to serve as a disposal plant committee for continued study of this problem.

Councilman Patchen said he thought the firemen should be complimented on their fine work at major fires this past year and that their assistance at the recent Youngsville fire was greatly appreciated by that community.

He also revealed that Warren had received a plaque for being one of three boroughs in the state to complete 1955 without an accident. He gave the police credit for this record.

Council approved requests to the state for traffic surveys of intersections at East and Pennsylvania and Morrison and Pennsylvania to determine if traffic lights are needed. The one at Morrison would replace the one at Pine and would be an actuated light which would turn to green when a car approached to enter Pennsylvania ave., and would be manually controlled by pedestrians.

BACKFIELDMAN JOHN BERDINE ran into this trouble when he skirted left end in Saturday's action-packed game between Warren and the Corry Beavers.

C. of C. Joins Protest To Railroad

The Warren Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night joined hands with other organizations in protesting the Pennsylvania Railroad's recent move that eliminated sleeping car service between Philadelphia and New York.

The directors of the Chamber also went a step further and will request an improvement in the service by the addition of a modern car with roomettes and a speed up of traveling time. Discussion at the session indicated many local residents are taking the Erie Railroad out of Jamestown to the big city because of modern sleeping accomodations.

Railroad officials have stated the curtailment was adopted because statistics showed only a few persons were using the car between Philadelphia and New York each day.

Other matters before the board included a report from James Blomquist and Chester Hindenach on a housing survey now being started. Approximately 5,000 questionnaires will be distributed in the county to heads of families to determine present and future housing needs in the area.

It was reported by Robert Anstadt, chairman of the annual Chamber banquet on February 5, that one of the most unusual and inspiring speakers in the nation has been engaged to give the principal address at the event.

"Money Talk" Dominates School Board Session

Five and six letter figures were not uncommon in action taken by the board members of the School District of Warren Borough Monday night.

The board authorized payment of bills in the amount of $111,353, granted the authority $53,000 for one-half year's rental of Jefferson school, gave a first installment of $30,219 to the joint board for the operation of Beaty and the high school, and made the first of two installments to the joint board for rental of Beaty. The latter figure was $17,100.

The fire insurance bill for the borough schools was $3,010.

A medical inspection program for kindergarten, first grade, third grade and employees was approved, as well as a dental inspection for the first and third grades. Previously the fifth grade was included, but the state has cut down reimbursements so the local board cut down the program.

Permission was given David Olson to attend the state PTA convention in Harrisburg on October 1-3 and the elementary principals' state convention at Buckhill Falls the 26th and 27th of October.

Approved w ere payments of $4.50 janitors' overtime; $3,290, special services; $2,754, playground supervision.

A report indicating the state's approval of a $24.35 tuition rate for the elementary schools was received. The $12.50 cost per month for kindergarten will continue.

The buildings and grounds committee report was accepted and will allow Schaeffer Electric to install a panel and fire alarm system at McClintock school and the county commissioners to use either Jefferson or Home Street schools for voting polls.

The trust indenture with the Warren Bank and Trust Company was approved. The financial figure involved is $45,325 and includes the Beaty, Smith and Parmlee funds.

Word was received that James Hill, art supervisor in elementary schools, had received his Master's degree from the Pennsylvania State University.

SHARPEN 'EM UP

With about two weeks to go before the first deer can be killed, archers of the state are advised to sharpen up their eyes and their arrows. For them the bucks become legal targets on October 1, and remain so until October 19.

By that time the rest of the hunters can get into the act. Grouse, wild turkey, and squirrels become legal game on October 20. It not only has seemed like a short summer because of the weather, but this early arrival of some phases of the hunting season make it seem even shorter.

TEST COLORS FOR SAFETY

Though red long has been considered the safe color to wear if you don't want to be mistaken for a game dinner, recent tests have revealed that the eyes are not always right. At least they seem to vary.

Tests were made in the California area which revealed that bright yellow was the most readily visible under all light conditions. During bright sunlight the fluorescents did well, but were difficult to see during early morning and evening hours.

This was done in California with the help of the army. The test was conducted by the National Rifle Association, the California Department of Fish and Game, and the California Optometric Association.

But the confusing angle is that the Pennsylvania Game Commission claims that tests in this state indicate that fluorescents are the best in poor light, especially the orange-red "fireglo" type. Oh, you boys!

How the Pennsylvania tests were conducted we do not know. Buf if someone will come out with a checkered affair, half bright yellow and half fireglow, the sun will never set on the hunting clan.

NANNY-FLAVORED BEAR

Times aren't so good in some parts of the bear country. Bruin once was happy to be in clover with his honey. In fact, he was so happy with it that beekeepers found him to be somewhat of a nuisance.

Over in Columbia county there is a bear who may have a strange flavor if he is put on the table this fall. He got himself a goat and ate the poor collection of sinew and bone.

And in the same county another bruin chased 500 chickens out of their coop while he ate their mash. If someone brings in a bear which has tail feathers and tastes like a goat, now they'll know.

COMMISSION IS 60 YEARS OLD

This year the Pennsylvania Game Commission celebrates its 60th Anniversary, having come into existence in 1896. In recognition of the milestone H. L. Buchanan, Vice-President of the organization, addressed Game Commission personnel in attendance at the recent in-service training conference at the Mont Alto Forestry School.

In his address the official took note of the agency's small beginning at the time Pennsylvania was a "shot out" state, and its continued growth to recognition as one of the nation's leading wildlife conservation organizations. These were a few of the accomplishments he cited:

The comeback of the deer herd, due to supporting legislation, the game refuge system and stocking of the popular big game animals; the return of beavers to the state, through stocking and protection; the successful introduction of the ring-necked pheasant; the production and release of truly wild turkeys and the expansion of their range and numbers across Pennsylvania.

The purchase of vast acreages of State Game Lands in every part of the Commonwealth; the development of marsh ponds for waterfowl and the introduction of ducks in likely water areas; the inception and development of the popular Farm Game Project program; the program of training young men to become qualified Game Protectors; and other accomplishments of the Commission, mostly in this century.

In closing, Commissioner Buchanan remarked on the fact that open hunting territory in Pennsylvania is dwindling while hunting pressure and the need for such areas increase. He pledged that despite these and other problems a forward-looking Game Commission, using the best available game management techniques and competent personnel, would maintain Pennsylvania's reputation as the state having the best diversified hunting in the nation.

MAJ. GEN. HENRY K. FLUCK, commanding officer of the 28th Infantry Division, was in Warren Monday evening to conduct an inspection of Company I. He is seen here questioning a local National Guardsman.

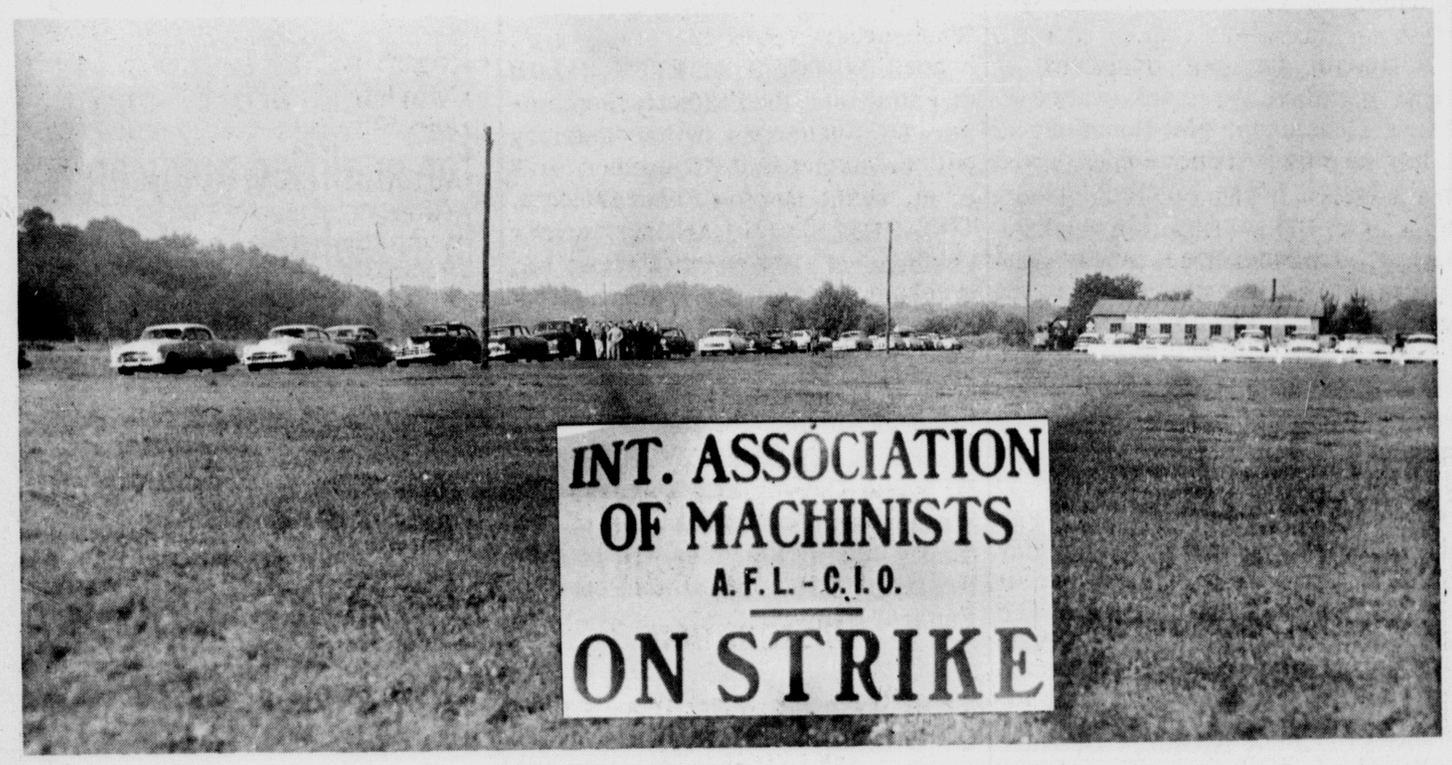

At a dinner in the Elks Club prior to the inspection, the general explained to local guests the need for a new Armory in the Warren area that would accommodate the local company's authorized compliment of 160 men.

He pointed out the present Armory was built in 1916 to house a 67 man unit. To increase the unit's strength it is necessary to have proper facilities available on a five to ten acre plot of ground.

"An adequate training program is necessary for reserve exponents to go forward," the general remarked.

PARTICIPATING in the inspection of Company I Monday were (l. to r.) 2nd Lt. Emory Mahan, Co. I training officer; Capt. Phillip Maines, Co. I commanding officer; Maj. Bernard Steis, battalion commander; Col. Donald D. Hay, regimental commander; Maj. General Henry K. Fluck, commanding officer of the 28th Infantry Division; 1st Lt. George R. Huhn, Co. I executive officer; and Capt. Irvin R. Kays, 3rd Battalion executive officer.

STILL ON STRIKE. About 32 employees of Thomas Flexible Coupling remained on strike this morning after walking off their jobs a week ago. Company officials were advised the reason was over the dismissal of another employee.

Pictured here is the picket line set up at the plant, although some 50 workers are still on the job.

A plant official has stated there is no certified union with NRLB at the plant, but strikers posted the sign inserted on this picture.

In Brief

A SAD AFFAIR. A nine-year-old project of the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce may die with the conclusion of the organization's 1956-57 concert series. This would mean that the community would no longer have such great artists as Iturbi, Patrice Munsel, Ferante and Teicher, Robert Merrill or Jerome Hines. They have all appeared here along with the Vienna Choir Boys, Longines Symphonette and the Pittsburgh Symphony.

This prediction was reached when the Jaycee Music committee met this week and learned that only 400 season tickets had been sold for the coming series. There have been concerts that attracted as high as 1200 persons.

The Jaycees started the concert series in 1947 when the Woman's Club was used. The Library Theatre was the next location for the series and now they are held in the new Beaty auditorium.

The committee has already held its membership drive for this season, but may conduct another this fall so artists will not have to perform before a half-filled auditorium.

FOUR ACCIDENTS were investigated by State Police last Saturday. At 2:00 a. m. about three miles west of Warren on Route 6 (Lily Pond crossing), Carl R. Eastman, 22 Fifth ave., W., Warren, escaped injury when his auto failed to make the curve. Only minor damage was caused.

A two-car sideswipe took place at 2:20 p. m. on the first overhead bridge west of Warren, involving Lyman Drace, Pittsfield, and Edward P. Nolan, Franklin. Drace received a laceration of the nose and damage was estimated at $400.

Arnold Crossley, Clarendon, was put in Warren General with a skull fracture at 9:15 p. m. Saturday. Approaching the Sherwood Refinery road near the Glade bridge, he failed to make a complete turn and piled into the head wall. An object flew off his car and struck the windshield of a second auto driven by Clayton Hansen, Corydon. Total damage, $400.

A fourth incident occurred at 10:45 p. m. at Weldbank, where A. Roger Donaldson, 914 Fourth ave., didn't negotiate a curve and plowed into a hedge, house porch, telephone pole, tree and garage. He emerged with a chin laceration, bruises and shock. This affair cost between six and seven thousand dollars damage.

ACCIDENT REPORTS for the past week indicated a lot of curves were missed by motorists. Richard Brink, R. D. 1., Clarendon, was no exception. He was travelling south on Route 62 at 10:15 p. m. Monday night, failed to make the curve at Akeley, and ran into a barn owned by Richard Enos. About $2000 damage resulted.

PARKED FOR NIGHT. D. Hugh Siggins, 20, R. D. 3, Sugar Grove, ran his car off the Allegheny Park road about 11:30 p. m. Tuesday and decided he would just spend the night there. He was found the next morning by his father, David Siggins, and taken to the hospital for a check-over. The car suffered minor damage.

RECKLESS DRIVING was charged against Richard Nuhfer, Clarendon, after he collided with an auto operated by Richard Chambers, 1524 Pennsylvania ave., W., Warren, at 4:08 p. m. Tuesday.

Nuhfer was going north on Park st. near Maple and was in the wrong lane when he hit the oncoming vehicle.

RECOGNIZE CIVIL DEFENSE. This week has been designated by President Eisenhower as National Civil Defense Week, but there is little we can say about this organization locally that it hasn't already proven itself.

Warren County has the privilege of having one of the top Civil Defense programs in the state. It is headed by William C. Fuellhart and controls such well functioning sub-organizations as the auxiliary police, rescue division, medical division, communication division, etc. There are also 21 fire departments in the county that participate in the program.

OBSERVES FIFTIETH

An unusual observance of a fiftieth anniversary will occur in the Lottsville Methodist church, Sunday, at 9:45 a. m. The Rev. Ivan E. Rossell, now retired and residing at Blockville, N. Y., will return to the pulpit where he preached his first sermon fifty years ago.

Graduating from Edinboro State Teachers College in the class of 1906, Rev. Rossell was elected principal of the Lottsville, Pa., high school. At Conference that year he also was appointed to serve as pastor of the Lottsville charge in the Methodist Church, consisting of Lottsville, Wrightsville and Bear Lake. He preached his first sermon as pastor on September 16, 1906.

This Sunday, on the same date as his first sermon, September 16, he will preach again in the Lottsville church. Since that 1906 date he has served the following charges in this area: Lottsville, Leon, Garland, Sheffield, Falconer, and Ashville.

He has officiated at 603 baptisms, 312 marriages, and 651 funeral services. He states that he will not use the same sermon this Sunday as he did fifty years ago.

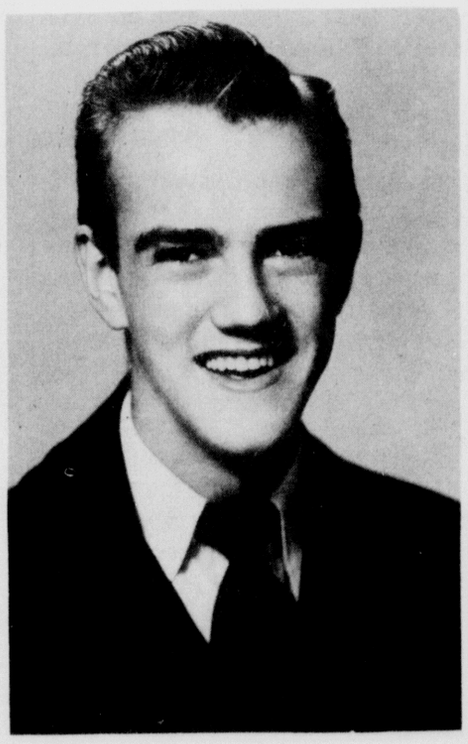

AND THE DRIVER WALKED AWAY. A. Roger Donaldson, 914 Fourth ave., Warren, escaped serious injury at 10:45 p. m. Saturday when he failed to negotiate a curve at the old familiar spot on Route 6 at Weldbank.

After missing the curve, Donaldson took with him a hedge, part of a house porch, a telephone pole, a tree, and ended up inside of a double garage. His car was demolished, as seen in this picture, and damage was estimated as high as $7,000.

The driver was treated at Warren General hospital for a chin laceration, shock and bruises.

Robert L. Dobbs, popular Warren saxophone player and son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Dobbs, 3 New Court Place, is playing in a movie short, "Jerry Gray's Band."

The picture, produced by Universal International Studios, will be shown at the Library Theatre in Warren Sunday through Wednesday, September 16-19.

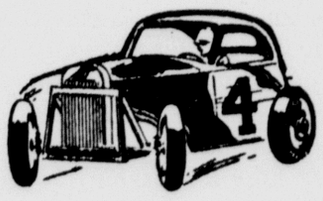

Dobbs has been on tour with the band in Washington, Arizona, Nevada and California, including a five week engagement at the Hollywood Palladium.

He went to Hollywood in the early part of 1955 and since that time has appeared with several name bands.

CALLING ALL AMBULANCES

Transportation is needed to move that buck which is being passed about Warren. The thing is getting heavy . . . . and we are noted for our tender toes.

The undertakers don't see why they should finance ambulance service and are going to drop it September 30. The hospital acts as though an ambulance was something it never wanted to see. The service clubs sent representatives to a meeting at which a non-profit organization was considered, but the net result was a decision that the borough council should do it. Borough council read the report, shuddered, and dropped it in the laps of its ambulance committee. Up to now this committee has done nothing more positive about the problem than to reveal quite positively that it isn't happy.

There are several answers but not several good ones. We are sure that if one funeral director were given all the business he might jump at the chance. But that wouldn't please the rest of them . . . . would it?

There is one individual in Warren, noted for good service in the motoring field, who has expressed his willingness to take over, at least until a solution is found. Maybe council could work something out with him.

But we see no reason why Warren should not have the best. What is the best? We are no authority on this subject but we believe it would include at least these basic attributes:

A location or locations that would serve all readily.

Enough ambulances to handle several calls or a serious one.

Personnel aboard who could efficiently handle the car, the life-saving equipment, and give at least basic first aid. Better yet, an interne, or nurse.

We would like to see two ambulances at the hospital, and one west of the P.R.R. tracks. This might save a life in case of a crossing block.

An arrangement with the telephone company that would make it necessary to tell the operator no more than your need for an ambulance, the same as is done for police and firemen.

Ambulances equipped to handle all types of emergencies, heart, drowning, shock, blood loss, and the many others.

And, of course, to start all this we need some money, which we believe can be obtained through those service clubs or some enterprising group which would make a drive for it. Once going, we doubt if enough loss would be suffered but what council could be talked into underwriting the difference. Maybe a thousand dollars, or less.

So, buy three of the best ambulances, which we understand the present owners will sell comparatively cheap, equip them, and build housing. Let the sirens sound!

THE PUZZLER

The one angle to the ambulance problem that confuses us is why so many citizens are so unwilling to stand up to it and look it in the eye. Let's face it. An ambulance is as important as a fire truck or a police car. When you need it, a life usually is in the balance. Why are we as a community running away from the immediate necessity of reaching a decision?

ANOTHER SITE

Mr. R. A. Myers took us riding last week to ten acres of land he owns just north of Ridge Ave., at the end of South, Irvine, Russell, and Central. He thinks it would make a high school site. It would require much leveling, bulldozing, and clearing. But in all fairness everyone deserves consideration.

OUR SAFETY RECORD

Councilman Patchen this week told council the community should be proud of its police force for the fine safety record enjoyed by the schools last year. We'll go along with that, but in all fairness we want to give credit to all concerned. Contributing to this fine record were the school patrols, composed of young people who did their own policing, and the state police who handle the green pennant project which rewards schools with good records and includes a series of safety talks by the state boys.

All of which adds up to the fact that much can be done when many work together. Let's have more of it, with open minds, and an even greater willingness to cooperate.

HEALTHY STEP

This evening the second meeting of a Citizens Committee for a New High School will be held, with ten parent organizations and the Jaycees participating. The committee was organized by representatives from these groups a week ago.

Formed under the auspices of the Jaycees it adopted a three-point program, including the study of related facts, the distribution of those facts to the citizens of the area, and the relaying of the public's wishes to the Warren Area Joint School committee.

Duane Wilder is the temporary chairman and Mrs. Henry Wyman the temporary secretary. The committee is very much interested in the possibilities of a new site as well as an adequate building.

A NEW NAME now appears among the East Side marques. Nick's Restaurant has become Nino's Restaurant.

MAKE 'EM WALK writes a Los Angeles reader. He suggests that inasmuch as fines do not seem to stop traffic violators, perhaps better results could be obtained by impounding the car from one to thirty days. Well, they do it with deadly weapons and in some hands cars are just that. So why not?

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES will hit every Pennsylvania county before election day, says Chairman George I. Bloom. Senator Duff and slate will be in Erie September 19, in Warren for a noon luncheon at the YWCA, September 20. Then to Williamsport the same day, and on to York the next day.

THE NICEST PART about this unusual summer is that the common fly has not been so common.

EAST END STORE
"Biggest Little Store In Town"
Youngsville, Pa.

THESE SUNDAY DRIVERS have the usual unconcern for safety which is often noticed on the highways. In order to rough it up for real, they race while backing up. It's a tight squeeze to reverse your percolator through a maze of stalled jallopies. The fellow on the left tried a short cut and was cut short.

THE WINNER'S FLAG was backed around by Carl Cooper, of Niobe, in CA-7. Carl proved that he could back up faster than the other contestants.

Rough And Tumble Gets O. K. At Roll - O - Bowl

By Lewis Crippen

Overturning cars and breath-catching skids only add to the enjoyment of the public at the Roll-O-Bowl race track. A bevy of skillful drivers vie each Sunday afternoon for fame and cash prizes before the thousands of spectators who jam the converted pasture and cheer for their favorites.

The track is bulldozed to a relatively flat surface but contains the ups and downs of the natural terrain and has two dangerous, bumpy curves where cars often end their races, wheels pointing skyward, and drivers scrambling for safety through the maze of other racers. A small stream has been piped under ground for the track's convenience but is an ever-present water supply for the steaming radiators of the decade-old stock cars.

If you were to view the area from the air it would resemble a junk yard and a circular road where the jallopies walk the last mile. But when the flag waver encourages the start of a field of more than thirty cars the atmosphere changes immediately and the tenseness of impending danger grips the audience composed of men, women, boys and girls. "Oohs" and "Aahs" greet every skidding turn, pushing and twisting autos, and they stand when flop-overs seem imminent or the track becomes so crowded with konked-out junkers that the travel area becomes greatly constricted. Some times they have to push each other to get started (it hardly pays to equip with charged batteries) and often they have to be towed back to the resting places after feature races, but when they are moving, every one forgets their shortcomings and every eye keeps trained on the doughnut track.

If you are not an expert you can easily miss the winner. The track is so small in circumference that the leader may be in the midst of the field, one or two laps ahead, and unless you are the head scorer who marks off each time a car passes the starting line, you may think he's fourth or fifth when he's in for top money. There are no manners, however, because they push and scramble for the lead. And the junker which is out in front most of the time can easily go over the edge, end up in the creek, or land on its side, and the underdog can be the first to greet the checkered flag.

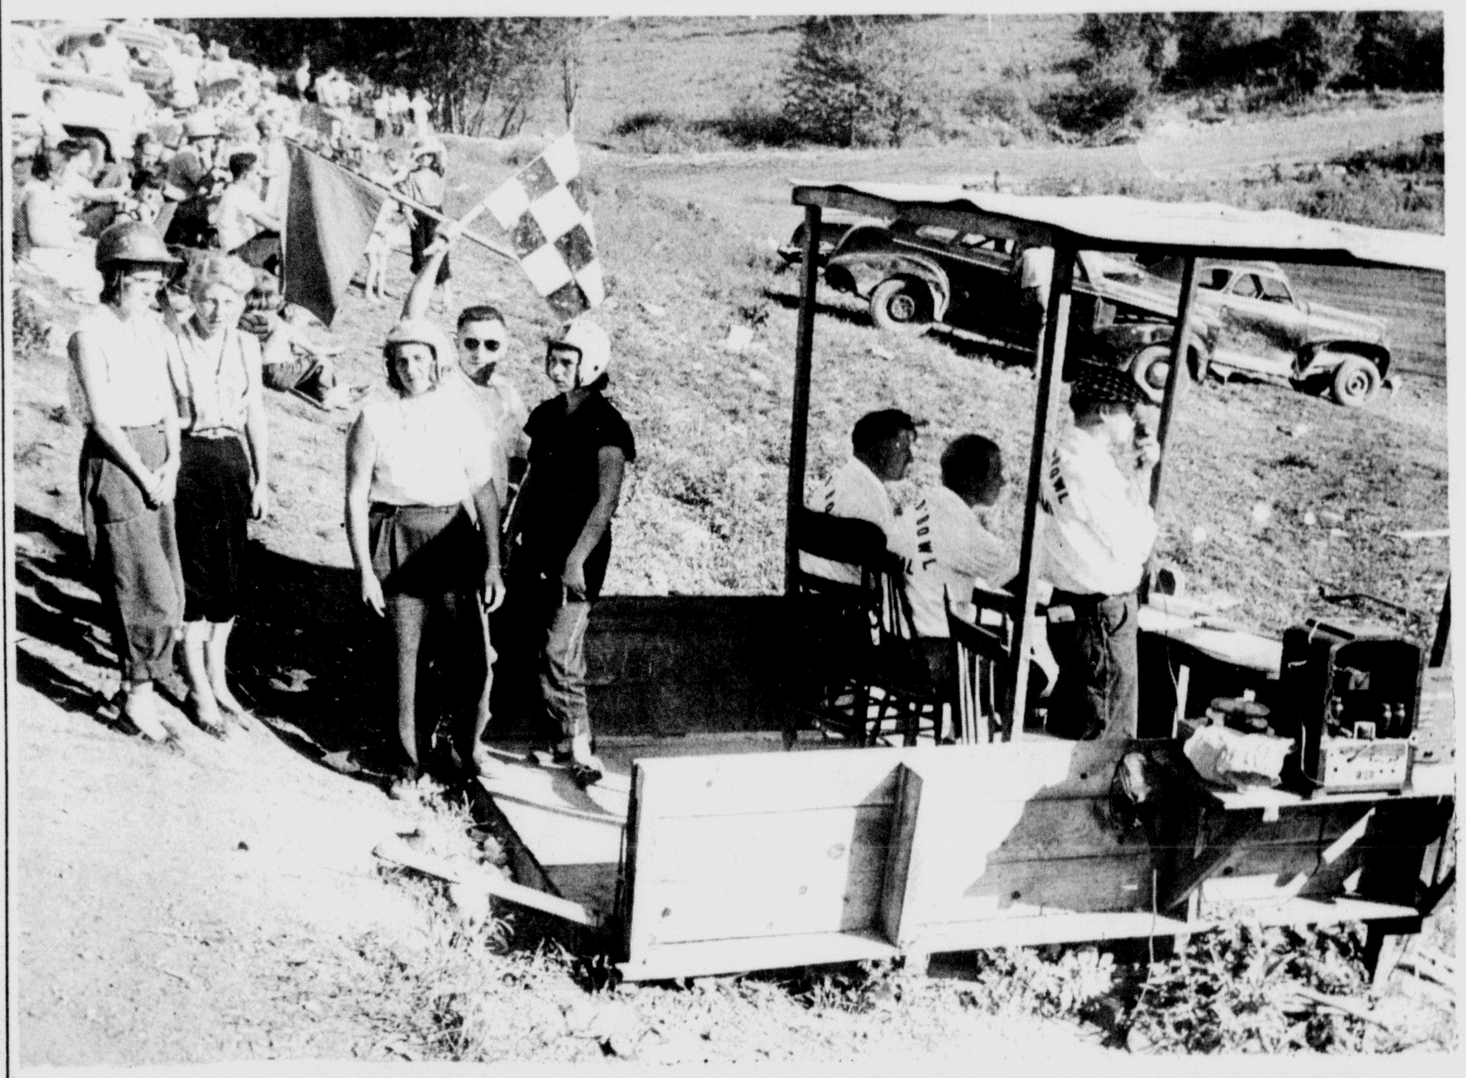

Don't be surprised at what you see. The girls (powder puff races they call them -- don't be misled by the smoothness of the name) are considered the most vicious. They neither give nor ask any quarter and are out to win. When I visited the track they had a harmless contest among three ladies named a "grudge match" which may give an indication of the strenuous nature of the race. Sometimes, they find it too boring trying the track in the conventional manner so they mix it up by racing backwards. From the jostling they receive from other autos and the natural bumps on the dirt track they probably spend the rest of the week with stiff necks.

They have been going at it every Sunday afternoon and most holidays since Howard and Donald McNitt had the opening on Memorial Day of this year. They now employ more than a dozen including most of the members of their own families. Best of all, there have been no serious accidents due to the strict enforcement of safety rules.

Now if your appetite is whetted by this article you can find the track on the Button Valley road between Watts Flats and Panama in neighboring New York State. Any Sunday afternoon at 2:30 you can witness a field of drivers including such favorites as Bud Morgan, Ralph Prine, and Andy Weis, of Warren; "Red" McNitt, of Watts Flats, and Don Little, of Wrightsville, as they battle for supremacy in a contest which takes both skill and nerve.

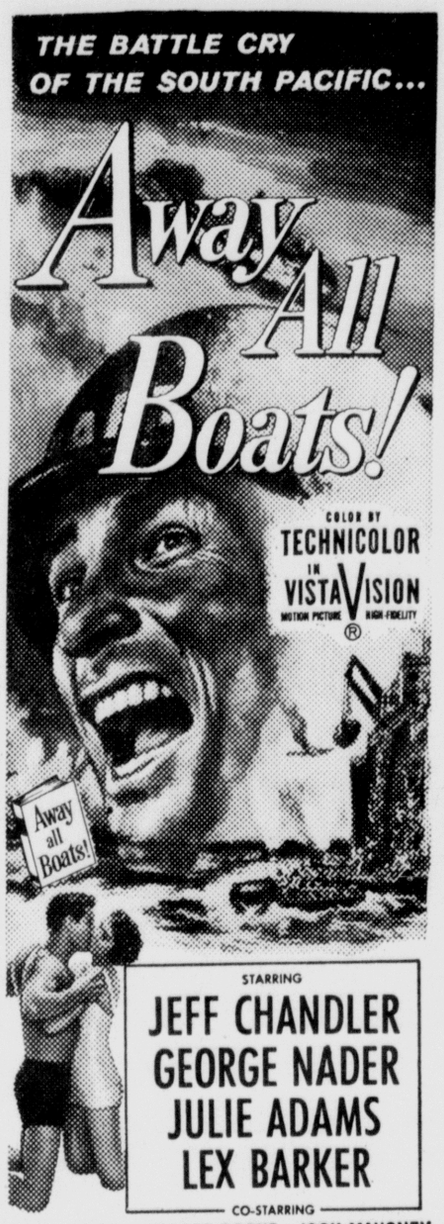

HERE IS THE TROUBLE SPOT where most of the turnovers occur. This field made it look easy in a still picture but for real action you should see them skid and bump. No manners -- they crowd and bang each other for first position.

THE GIRLS MIX IT UP in special "powder puff" races. In this group (left to right) are: Betty Silsby, of Erie; Beulah Eggleston, of Jamestown; Frank Covey, of Ashville, the starter; Clarene James, of Watts Flats; Nancy Eddy, of Warren; Roland Woods, of Watts Flats, judge; Bud Pike, of Ashville, judge; and Basil Ewer, of Watts Flats, announcer.

HUNGRY FOR EXCITEMENT. As a release from the week's tension, these racing fans crowd the Roll-o-Bowl race track and wait for some unlucky driver to overturn on the sharp and bumpy curves. The day this reporter was prese they indicated the attendance small but all the parking area was filled and cars spilled out onto the Button Valley rd.

NEARLY ONE-HALF MILLION DOLLARS in damages resulted from this fire which completely destroyed the Eichenlaub warehouse in Youngsville early the morning of September 6. The frame building, which belonged to the Youngsville Star Manufacturing Company, caught fire at 1:30 a. m., Thursday, and collapsed an hour later. Fire companies from six communities rallied to fight the blaze.

ONE OF THREE SPECIAL School Traffic Education awards presented in Pennsylvania for 1955 was presented to Warren Monday along with the regular National Safety Council award for having no fatal accidents in the borough last year.

ATTORNEY R. PIERSON EATON, draft board member, presented cartons of cigarettes to (l. to r.) John L. Cottillion, Warren, Carl O. Stranburg, Tiona, and Paul Gordon, Warren, prior to the boys' departure for induction into the Armed Forces Monday night.

The gifts were contributed by the American Legion and V.F.W. posts, whose representatives were unable to be present.

FALL QUESTIONS

The fall was kicked in with snappy weather and a few footballs Saturday afternoon, immediately providing us with several questions. The puzzler of the day was the crowd. Last year we had one of the best teams in Pennsylvania, and possibly the best. This season we are starting with just one of those unbeaten regulars. The rebuilding job that may take a couple seasons is on.

Despite this situation there were more people in the stands last Saturday than we remember seeing for any game on Memorial field in 1955. What an embarrassing and frustrating position for a coach? They didn't turn out to see his best but they fill the seats to watch him start from scratch.

Our question is, "Where were you people last year?"

Another one that puzzles us is the size of the Warren team. Corry is a smaller town, yet it seemed to have more beef out there than we did. Where are our big boys? We realize we probably have some large ones who still are growing fast and no doubt are falling over their own feet. This always is with us. But the law of average says there must be some husky ones who are not awkward. How come loyalty to one's town and school doesn't send a larger number of these muscular youngsters out there to help the team?

Another one that bothers us is the custom of opening the season against Corry. In those old days of which we so often are apt to boast, the season was opened against a soft spot, such as Youngsville. Some times we played two smaller opponents on successive Saturdays, such as Youngsville and Sheffield. And those games went down in the record as victories . . . if we won. There were exceptions when we didn't.

Which pretty well proves our point. If a team can be so ragged on the opening day that it may be knocked off by boys from a town a tenth our size, we certainly are asking for trouble when we schedule the Beavers.

For years we tuned up against Erie Academy. It always was booked as an unofficial practice game, but when the season's records were counted up we never saw Erie refusing to take credit for the victory.

It can be argued that such an opening is fair for both teams. We will agree with that if both teams have the same athletic policy. But Corry and Warren do not. There is much more emphasis on sports in Corry than in Warren and the result is that their teams are ready earlier. Their summer practice is much more concentrated and intense than ours.

We doubt if this pays off for Corry in the long run. We have noted that their teams that look so powerful early in the season begin to get knocked off at later dates when other schools find their stride. Another reason why we see no reason for Warren being chosen as the one to beard the beaver.

Perhaps it again will be argued that all the prospective opponents are placing more emphasis on sports. By emphasis we assume it is meant that they start teaching them early and the coach has full charge of their training from the seventh or eighth grade up.

Is there something wrong with that if it is done by a good coach who has the right influence on the boys? Is there something wrong with teaching them to kick a ball, throw it, make a tackle right, block correctly, and generally handle themselves in a way that will be effective, and at the same time reduce their own potential injuries?

If the pressure isn't placed on the coach to be a high school Rockne, we see nothing wrong with teaching the boys to play any sport as well as possible.

We were pleased with the Warren team Saturday. It could have tied or won the game with an ounce of luck at the right time. Too much emphasis is being placed on one play as the difference in the score. The failure to get the place-kick off after the touchdown because of ball handling is pin-pointed.

We believe such talk is as silly as the point itself. We never could see why victory should go to one team because of a magic foot on one side of the scrimmage line. It is a team game and should be judged accordingly. If two teams battle to a tie as teams, why not let it stand as such? Why toss a coin or suddenly switch it to an individual game to decide the issue?

Saturday's games had several plays which decided the result. We at one time had John Powley in perfect focus with our camera. He was standing on the goal line completely alone. The pass came but it did not come to John. It went to his left and over his head to a receiver who was completely covered by two Corry men. There were others, and Corry can name you a few, too. That's football.

The Warren team is green, light, and not very fast. But it obviously is willing and Saturday it seemed to be in condition. If it does no more than keep in physical shape, keep listening to its coaches and trying, there will be sorry foes.

The team no longer is playing last year's schedule. The undefeated record is gone and that kind of pressure is off. As one youngfellow wisely put it, the 1956 team now has its own season to play.

DRAGONS' SKEIN SNAPPED

A 17-game win streak that carried with it a 1955 undefeated season and the Section Two conference championship was snapped before 2300 fans at War Memorial field Saturday afternoon. It went this way: Corry 7, Warren 6.

It was a hangover eleven from the fine 1955 squad that was featured in Saturday's contest, but a team that stepped on the rugged Beavers' toes several times and with a little more experience and shine should make a commendable showing in the end.

Coach Lou Hanna's outfit carried the first score across the line in the second quarter. The TD series started with a Mitchell-Turner aerial that netted 18 yards and placed the visitors on the Warren 48. Mitchell and French continued to punch at the Dragon forward wall until a pair of firsts were registered and the pigskin rested on the local's five yard stripe.

A penalty shoved the ball to the one, from where French plunged for the score. Mitchell converted for the winning margin.

Moments later the Bellmen started their effort with Suppa's 30-yard kickoff return to the Warren 42. The Dragon gridmen were forced to punt, but a penalty returned repossession and a first time in Corry territory.

Suppa took the ball on a reverse and romped to the 29 yard line and a first. A Bob Hartnett to John Powley pass was executed and added up six points for Warren. John Berdine's attempted place kick was blocked.

It was a see-saw battle from there on in with both teams threatening to score. At one time the Dragons forged to the 17 yard stripe in the third stanza and then turned around to halt the Beavers on the local one-yard line in the final quarter.

This Saturday Warren will encounter Franklin in another league game. It's War Memorial field at 1:30.

WOLVERINES DOWN JAYVEES

A hep Sheffield high eleven trounced the Warren Jayvees, 36-18, in a season opener on the Wolverines' home gridiron Friday afternoon.

Coach Ralph Santo's lads started off early by taking the opening kickoff and moving the pigskin over the goal in seven straight plays. Johnson went through left tackle to score. The count climbed to 9-0 shortly when the Orange and Black tagged McCool behind the goal line for a safety that followed a bad center. Before the close of the period Exley bucked from the one to make it 15-0.

Johnson hit pay dirt again in the second stanza before Bob Haslet led the Baby Dragons down the field to make it 22-6 at the mid-way mark.

Haslet, McCool and McKelvy turned out to be the trio that paved the way for two more TD's in the second half against a similar number for Sheffield.

The Santomen entertain the Northern Area Knights this Saturday.

YOUNGSVILLE LOSES 26-12

Resting on a 12-7 lead at halftime, the Youngsville Eagles found Brookville strong enough to make a second-half comeback and flip the tables for a 26-12 triumph.

A 60-yard Moniak to Rensma pass accounted for one Eagle tally, with the former running for the other.

COUNTY FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

Saturday: Franklin at Warren, War Memorial field, 1:30, Lawrence Park at Youngsville, Northern Area at Sheffield.

RESERVED TICKETS OUT

Reserved seat tickets for the Warren-Franklin football game at War Memorial field Saturday afternoon are now available at the B & B Smoke Shop, Mack's News and the United Cigar Store.

The sponsoring Jaycees encourage fans to purchase their ducats early in view of the fact that the reserved section was nearly sold out for the opening game last week. Tickets will also be available at the game for a donation of 25 cents.

Jaycees also run a parking lot at the game and work with the high school student council with concession stands. The proceeds go to the War Memorial field fund.

SPORTSCASTER TO SPEAK

Ken Coleman, popular sportscaster of the Cleveland Browns football games and the TV broadcasts of the Indians, has been engaged to speak here at the annual Sports Boosters' "homecoming smoker" October 5. The affair will be held at the Marconi Outing club in honor of the 1926 team and will also feature at the speaker's rostrum, Ray Sorenson, Warren's lone Olympic participant.

ROLLERS WIN P-Y PLAYOFFS

Scoring two runs in the first inning, the Marlin-Rockwell nine rolled on to a 2-1 victory over the Starlite Bombers for the Penn-York baseball league crown. The Rollers won two in the best-of-three series.

FAIRWAY PITCHES

FINALS UNDERWAY

Many of the flight finals of the Conewango Valley Country Club golf tournament are completed, but a few are hanging fire for the last splurge of organized golf. Bill Rice has taken the championship flight consolation honors by beating Heggsie Schmidt, 1 up. Tim Creal defeated Harold Smith, 5 and 4, to win the first flight. Bob Walsh got by Bob Anstadt, 1 up in twenty holes, to meet Tom Atwell in the first flight consolation finals.

Sam Rasmussen is the second flight king with a 1 up victory over Bob Kopf. Bill Lundahl will meet Walt Dremann in the consolation of the second flight.

Lloyd Cleveland took third flight laurels with a defeat of Gaston Hamilton. Still to be played is the fifth flight consolation final between Bob Alexander and Claud Schindler. The seventh flight has been completed with a victory by Lou Wanner over Neil Culbertson, 3 and 2.

HANS WINS

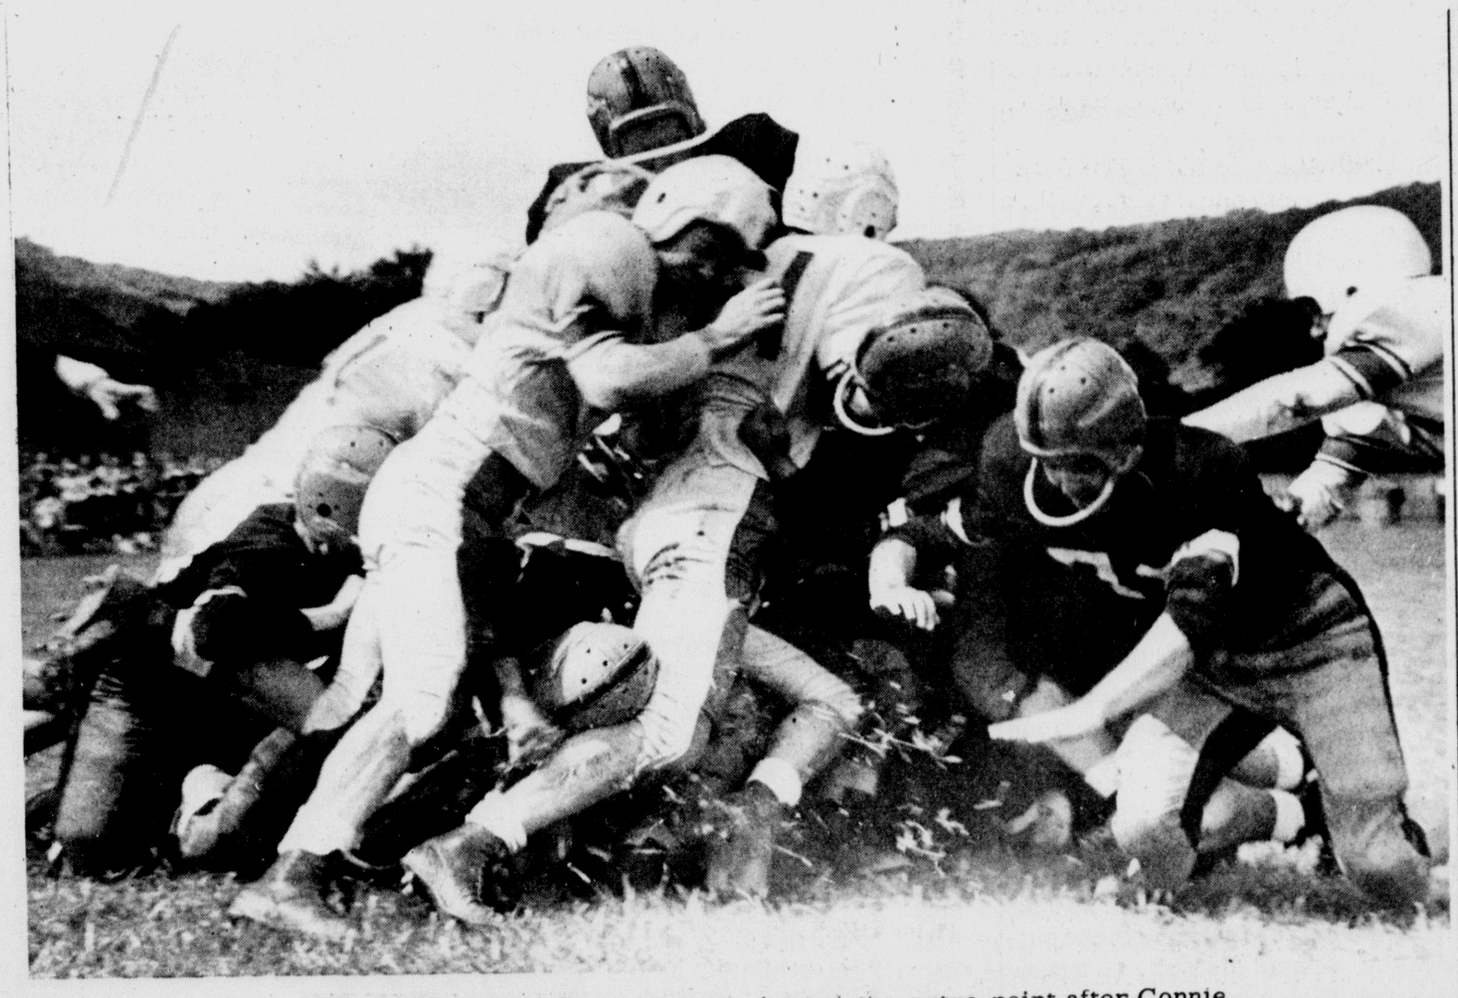

Hans Link picked up the weekly golf winnings with a 44 less a 13 handicap to lead a medal play event with 31. Nummy Lundahl had 41 less 9 for a net 32. Harry Barley was fourth with 46 less 13 for 33, and tied at 34 were Lloyd Cleveland, 42 less 8, Gaston Hamilton, 42 less 8, and Harold Smith, 39 less 5.

Today it will be a flag tournament and next week they will be shooting medal play with 2-3rds handicap.

FRED LOSES

Freddy Paine, former Warren golfer and now of Oakmont, didn't get past Dr. Paul Leslie, of Jefferson City, Mo., in his first national amateur match. The apparently good doctor took him, 6 and 4. Fred got off to an 8-over start on the first nine which was no help.

IT'S GOOD. Yes, Corry scored the first touchdown in Saturday's fracas in this play. Billy Mitchell booted the extra point after Connie French's score to provide the winning margin.

NEW MOVIES ON TV?

The chance of seeing a few movies that have been made since 1948 is being talked by some tv reporters. They claim the major movie producers have been discussing the possibilities of a united plan for releasing post 1948 movies.

Among the obstacles are the danger to current movie attendance and labor relations with various guilds.

NEW CAR PLANS

The fall outburst of new cars will have a major effect on tv and radio programs. The many makers of cars now are planning the broadcasting season and the best method to introduce new models.

Plymouth is going all-out for the number three spot, now held by Buick. Its major tv program will be Lawrence Welk's champagne music.

Buick will cut back on its air time. It will use a seven-day radio push to help introduce its new ones, and will take part in a few spectaculars during the season. There will be no more Gleason. Buick is a big user of newspaper space.

Oldsmobile also will reduce its broadcast budget, and Nash will use half as much air time. Studebaker-Packard will drop Readers Digest program and look for a new idea. Pontiac will have a smaller air time budget than last year.

Ford and Chevy will bust loose in November. Ford is dropping Producers Showcase (NBC) and is pushing Ford Star Jubilee (CBS). It also is switching Ford Theatre from NBC to ABC.

The premiere presentation of Ford Theatre will star Ray Milland and Virginia Gibson in "Catch At Straws", October 3. Milland also will direct. He will play the district attorney. Miss Gibson will be the society girl in love with a disgraced ex-GI.

BIG ONE

Mark down October 6 for a tv date. The CBS-tv Cole Porter festival will be seen that Saturday evening. On the program will be Peter Lind Hayes, Mary Healy, Louie Armstrong, Dorothy Dandridge, Sally Forest, Delores Gray, Shirley Jones, Gordon MacRae, George Saunders, and . . . Cole Porter.

WANTA HELP?

You don't have to live in Buffalo if you wish to support the WGR-tv effort to raise money for muscular dystrophy funds. The station will do an 18-hour show, starting at ten Saturday evening, with a long string of major dramatic performers, dancers, and musicians to keep things moving.

In Warren, Caprinos will stay open throughout these hours with two telephones going, Warren 1507 and 535. You are asked to call from any part of the county if you want to give. In addition the store is giving a percentage of every sale made during this time to the fund. Ray Yaegle is the local chairman.

DIAL SPINNERS

BIG TIME approaches University of Buffalo football as bigger name schools come to the schedule. Bucknell, Carnegie Tech, Alfred, and other secondary schools are popping up in the schedule. And all will be broadcast by WBEN.

*

YOU MAY NOT SEE the Detroit-Washington game on tv September 23. Though WBEN will televise it, only network viewers will see it. The Buffalo area will be blocked out. You are expected to drive to Buffalo for this one.

But this Sunday you can see Washington and Baltimore tune up, at 2 p. m.

AMONG THOSE PRESENT for the WGR tv round-up for muscular dystrophy, starting Saturday at 10 p. m. and running until 4 p. m., Sunday, will be Florian Zabach, blonde violin virtuoso, who also will be the feature guest of TV Dance party Saturday at 1 p. m.

Others on that dystrophy program include Hugh (Wyatt Earp) O'Brian, Cab Calloway, The Platters, John Reed King, Virginia Graham, and Captain Midnight.

NORMALCY RETURNS. On Sunday you can see The First Moscow Purge Trial by way of You Are There. And Person to Person will place Edward R. Murrow and you in the homes of Frank Sinatra and the famous trial attorney, Joseph N. Welch, Friday night.

And tonight Douglas Fairbanks presents the finale of his present dramatic series. Name of the play is Forever Is a Long Time.

Great Weekend for Contests

Television is a great medium for contests of any sort and last week end we were up to our eyeballs in them. Contests, there were, for all tastes. In Atlantic City there were girls. In Ebbets Field there were baseball players. At Forest Hills there were tennis players. In Louisville there were football players. All over the spectrum there were politicians running for office. And on the "$64,000 Challenge" there were bible experts. All competing. About the only contest you couldn't witness on TV last week end was a good game of horse-shoes and maybe there was one of those somewhere that I missed.

In Atlantic City -- taking things up in the order of their importance -- was that national institution known as the Miss America Pageant, and as usual, ABC-TV televised the finals. This year, as ABC said, the emphasis was to be on more girls and less talk. This was a brilliant decision all right but, regrettably, talk could not be eliminated entirely and the talk in these donneybrooks is something less than brilliant.

For instance, all the finalists were asked whom they admired most in the world outside their own family. One girl listed her aunt, who is hardly outside her family; another her sponsor, and still another her preacher -- all of them perhaps laudable choices but indicative of a rather narrow range of interest. A girl who aspires to be Miss America ought to be thinking in terms of Winston Churchill or somebody like that. With a renowned figure -- Churchill or Eisenhower or Elvis Presley -- we'd get some insight into the girl's character and, if a girl is to represent my country all year long, I think I've the right to know about such things.

Of course, there's a body of opinion which is growing stronger every year that Miss America contestants should be mute, like baseball players. A baseball player just plays baseball, and when he does get into a hassle with an umpire, we don't -- mercifully -- hear it. I don't know that I'd go along with this theory. Talking is part of being a girl -- along with the other things. They ought to talk all right, but perhaps they ought to practice a little more before being allowed on a national network.

As usual, there were little displays of talent from the girls. The winner, Marian Ann McKnight, imitated Marilyn Monroe, which is getting to be a standard act, like the Jewel Song in "Faust" and, since even so knowledgeable a witness as Joe DiMaggio put his seal of approval on it, I'm not going to hazard an opinion about it. But the general standard of talent was pretty low. Miss McKnight, in fact, committed a shocking breach of procedure when she failed to burst into tears after she won. She seemed to be trying awfully hard, but she couldn't make it. The girl should have been disqualified right there. The ability to talk is optional, but tears are traditional.

NBC, as usual, brought the semi-finals and finals of the National Tennis Championship at Forest Hills. And on Sunday, tennis fans got as beautiful a display of competitive tennis as they could wish when little Ken Rosewall beat his fellow Australian Lew Hoad in a major championship.

Coverage of tennis by television has certainly vastly improved. Having attended the matches at Forest Hills and having watched on TV, I feel strongly that you still get only about 50 per cent of the subtleties of tennis on the set at home -- but that is about as much as TV will ever master. And the comments and play-by-play from Jack Kramer and Bud Palmer is tops. No matter how much you know about tennis you are likely to learn a few things listening.

Since television arrived, athletes have been deplorably audible. They're all over the place, discovering how Viceroys taste and shaving with Gillettes and, well, talking. But not Ken Rosewall. Besides being one of my favorite tennis players, he did a lot toward restoring the old-time muteness of athletes. When asked after the match how he felt about it, he had absolutely nothing to say.

Walker's Milk Diet

Here's why you can reduce comfortably with Milk
THERE'S NO NEED TO SUFFER the many discomforts which usually accompany rigid diets. Milk can help you because milk builds strength, not fat. Milk is the best source of digestible, low-cost protein, Vitamin A, riboflavin and calcium, which your body needs every day. Yet milk calories are relatively low in fat. High protein reducing diets built around milk are comfortable and safe.

Citizens Committee Visits Joint Board

The joint committee of the Warren Area Joint School Board had 17 interested visitors on hand when President Melvin G. Keller banged the gavel to open Monday night's monthly session.

The bulk of the group consisted of members from the newly created citizens committee spearheaded by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and pledged to keep informed about Warren's new high school. Duane Wilder headed the delegation, explained the committee's function, and asked for access to reports pertaining to the school. School officials went into an executive session to reach a decision granting the citizens committee or anyone else the privilege of studying the report.

President Keller welcomed the observers and encouraged further public participation and interest in school issues.

It was the decision of the committee Monday night to ask the two architectural firms to restudy the figures of their previous recommendations regarding a new high school for Warren area. Why? In light of increased costs and a revised room schedule.

The firms will be asked to submit their remarks as soon as possible.

What to do when the state survey committee submits its report and recommendations for a new school was also up for discussion.

State approval was received for the lunch and milk program. Students will be able to purchase five half-pints of milk for 20 cents and a complete meal for 30 cents. The state also approved a tuition rate of $27.84 for Beaty and $31.33 for high school.

Orders for the month were approved in the amount of $3990. Also $96.50 for janitors' overtime and $823 for special services. Bills ordered paid totalled $40,973, nearly 75 per cent of which goes to the authority.

It was announced that Miss Catherine Henderson and Miss Jean Spencer had acquired their Master's degree. Miss Christine Hurd was given permission to attend the Columbia Scholastic Press meeting on yearbooks October 12-13 at New York City and Harry Summers to serve on a visiting committee at Corry high school.

Mrs. Arlene Whitehill was honored by being appointed by the state Superintendent of Public Instruction to serve on a committee writing a homemaker publication.

The report of the buildings and grounds committee was accepted. This included hiring of N. E. Schrecongost as janitor at the high school building.

Funds were allocated for the following: cafeteria supplies, $542; science supplies, $349; library supplies, $144; homemaking supplies, $88; music supplies, $384; art supplies, $127; and magazines (for 2 schools), $453.

Resignations were accepted from Max Nemmer, Homer Barr and Susan Lesser Oferle. Hired were Richard Kaufman and Harold E. Miller, teachers, and Miss Marilyn Pastrick, secretary at Beaty. Tony Papalia is substituting for Mr. Miller until the latter is discharged from the service.

Boiler repairs at the high school amounted to $187, 24 adults have signed up for the latest drivers' training course, and students will again be authorized one day's absence for hunting.

BUYERS' CORNER

STOCKS A BAROMETER

There still are those who insist that the stock market gamblers control the prosperity of the nation. In some ways they no doubt have much to do with that prosperity, but the stock market's rise and fall is not a proof of prosperity nor a true indication of business conditions.

We are a believer in industrial production. If the plants of our nation are producing and are selling what they produce, men are working and men are buying. If that does not provide at least a fair prosperity, nothing under our free enterprise system will.

There are other measures, of course, such as commodity price levels, freight car loadings, and the consumption of key products or materials. You will find none of these following the stock market line.

For example, the last half of 1953 industrial production took a very sharp nose-dive, leveling off and holding to a comparatively low point through nine months of 1954.

While this was going on the prices of 420 industrial stocks were climbing one hundred per cent! How can you consider stock prices as a barometer of business conditions when they soar while industrial production falls off?

In that same period the prices of commodities were holding about even, though the farm level of prices was zig-zagging up and down, eventually reaching a point in late 1954 which was about ten per cent lower than the 1947 to 1949 average. Other commodities were about ten per cent higher. This evened up the price line but again the lines on a graph did not tell the true story of all involved.

In 1955 industrial production made a steady climb, rising about ten per cent of the 1947-49 level. The stock market figures did not tell the same story. They were very unsteady, rising and falling in sharp dips and climbs which had no parallel in the industrial production line nor in prices.

This summer was the real pay-off. About mid-year industrial production took a sudden drop that almost reached the low level of 1954. What happened to those 420 industrial stocks? They climbed to a record high!

Meanwhile, freight carloadings were at a lower point than at any time in the past few years, and farm prices which had been gradually climbing upward after a new low in late 1955, also started downward.

Every business indicator at mid-year said that things were not so good. The stock market said they were wonderful.

We mention this for one of several reasons. Mainly we believe people are too prone to be alarmed when the market moves downward. And they are too optimistic when it keeps climbing. We suggest that business conditions and the market are not as synonimous as once might have been the case.

COSTLY PUBLICITY

The Nation reports a frightening aspect of our news mediums and the mis-use thereof by those who wish to influence public thinking. It reports that the American Medical Association paid almost five million dollars to a pair of public relations experts to lick the Truman health insurance. This pair successfully got it labeled as "socialized medicine". For that kind of money they obviously can obtain news space and time to sell many ideas and many people. Wonder which party is using them this fall?

ENCOURAGING

Along medical lines we always are interested in developments that bring hope to the afflicted. The Pennsylvania Medical Journal reports that ninety per cent of those who have suffered a stroke affecting one side of the body can take care of themselves within a year, and thirty per cent can return to useful employment through a program of rehabilitation. The physician's responsibility with the one million hemiplegics in the United States today does not end when the acute phase of the treatment is passed. And rehabilitation cannot be accomplished in a few days.

Which suggests again the need for additional hospital rooms. More time in the retraining period also may mean more time in the hospital if we are to be truly interested in the restitution of human dignity.

NEW TOOTHPASTE

Stripe will be the name of a new toothpaste to come out soon, first in Peoria and San Diego. Lever Brothers will bring it out and the most amazing thing about it will be that no miracles will be promised. It just cleans your teeth . . . in or out.

NEW CARS SOON

One major car maker is planning to throw everything it has into its 1957 models, according to a factory representative. Nothing will be left for 1958 except drawing board pictures. This car is not among the top three today, but expects to be by a year from now. It will be five inches lower, longer in the wheelbase but shorter in the body, thus providing an easier ride and increased roadability, while making it easier to park. And its riding qualities will be enhanced by the latest in shock control. The name? Plymouth!

WHEN DO WE PAY IT?

The one aspect of federal taxes that bothers us the most is not the size of them. If we are getting the most out of our democratic form of government we certainly are willing to pay what it costs.

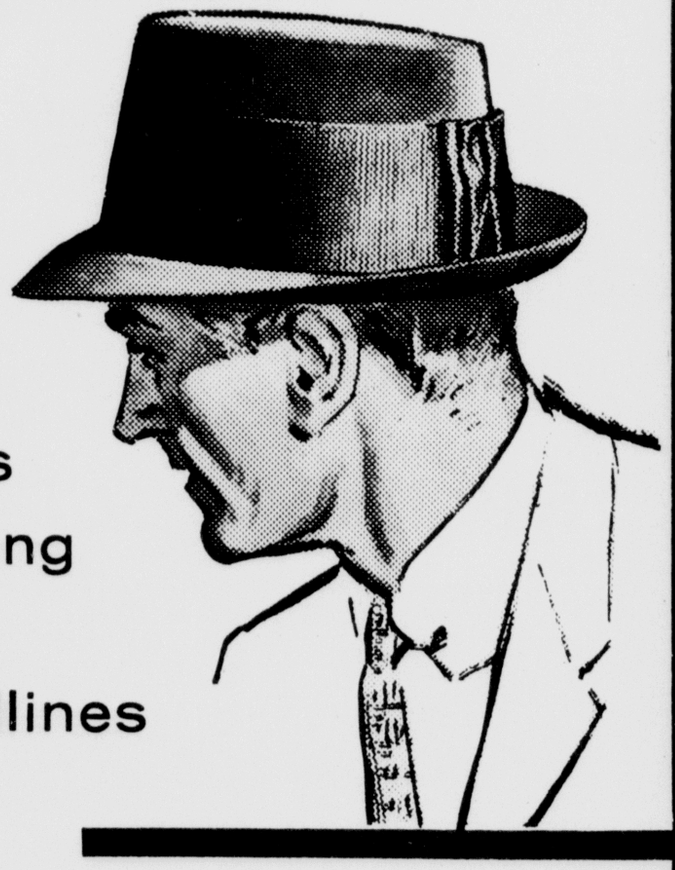

During those depression years we went far into debt to correct the situation. Then came a war and we went still farther into debt. Next the Korean situation popped up and we spent more war money.

But in the past four years we have been boasting about peace and prosperity. The individual in good times uses a portion of his money to pay off the debts he incurred to get him past the days when he had to live on credit.

So, what bothers us is, if we are having peace and prosperity, why are we not making healthy reductions in the national debt? The way it looks to us we still will be loaded with the debt of the last depression when the next boom busts.

INTERSTATE SYSTEM -- ROUTE 6 -- CROSS-STATE ROUTE

INTERSTATE SYSTEM. Here you see a portion of the Interstate System of Highways that takes in Warren and ranges from Cleveland to New York. There is currently a battle on to save Route 6, which extends across the northern tier of Pennsylvania and is identified by the pair of lines in this picture.

This is the system adopted in 1947. The battle in this area now is to keep Route 6 on the Interstate System. Some state officials are strongly in favor of placing the Interstate route across Pennsylvania as indicated by the dotted line on the map - Sharon to Stroudsburg.

SCHOOL PATROL MEMBERS and teachers led East Street students to a safe location on Liberty st. during the Civil Defense drill Wednesday. The old school is not considered safe in the event of an attack.

WARREN STUDENTS responded to a make-believe air attack test at 11:00 a. m. Wednesday morning as part of the observance of National Civil Defense Week.

These East Street school pupils were marched to safety in the Warren Apartment's garage on Liberty st. At the left Paul Mutzubaugh, principal, impresses upon the youngsters the serious nature of the drill.

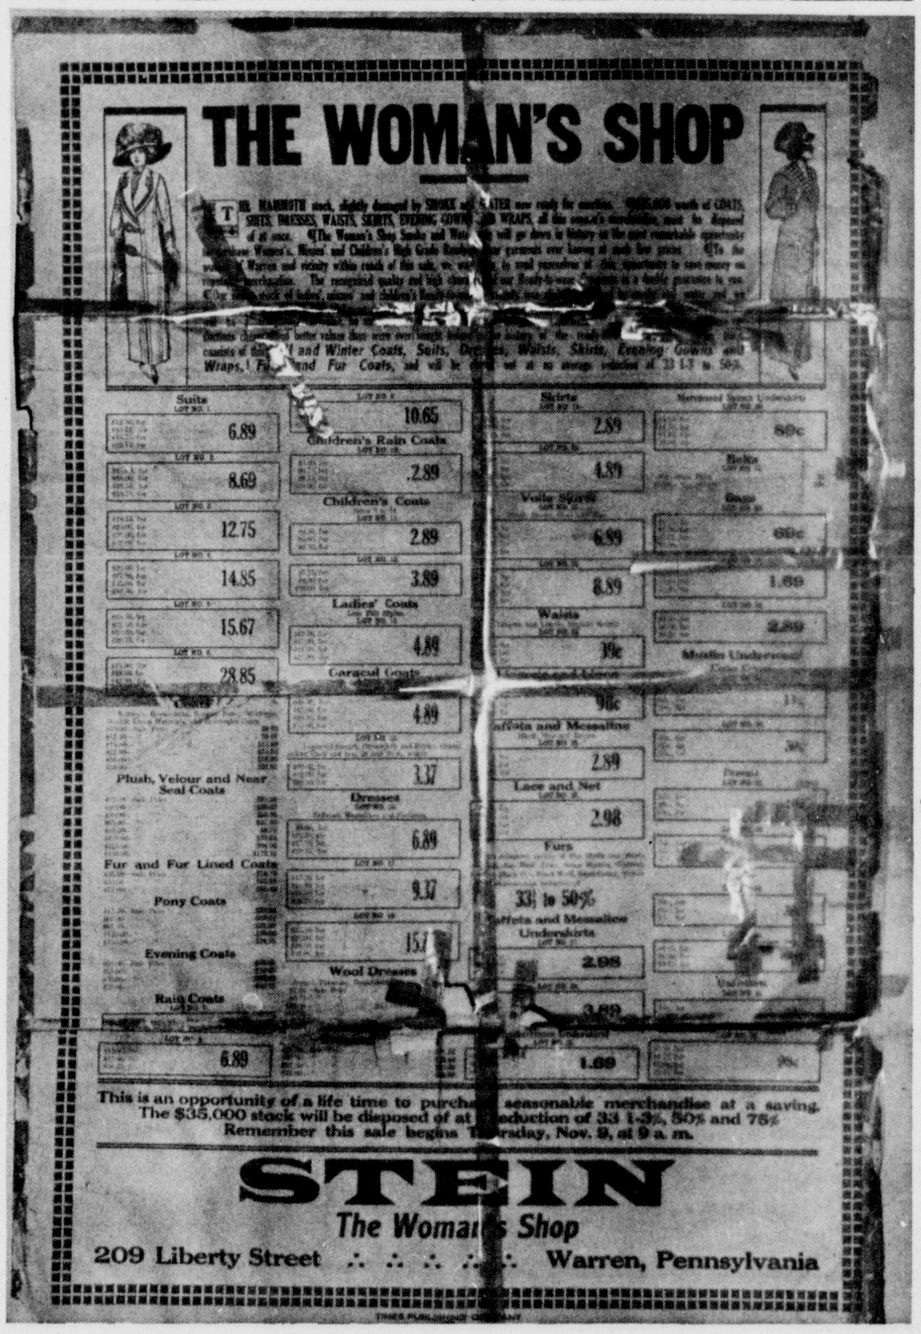

ROUGH RIDING DAYS on Third ave. are over. Pictured here are men from the Battin Blacktop Co. of Cambridge Springs putting the finishing coat on between Market and Liberty streets.

THIS COMPLETED PASS in the Warren-Corry grid contest brought the Dragons to the opposition's 26-yard line.

THE TEST DRILL was over and students filed out of the Warren Apartment's garage and back to the classroom.

DRAWERS, 19 CENTS. That's the way it went in those early days of the century. Next week Stein's will observe its fiftieth anniversary with a sale and special events. Appropriately a friend of Ray Stein found this handbill, apparently used to pad the back of a picture. Twice the size of a normal newspaper page, it tells the story of a fire sale which occurred at the store's Liberty st. location. Today's modern store faces on Pennsylvania ave.

The ad offers such bargains as suits for $6.89; plush velour and "near" seal coats, $21.85; fur and lined coats, $32.69; corset cover, 11 cents; skirts, $2.89.

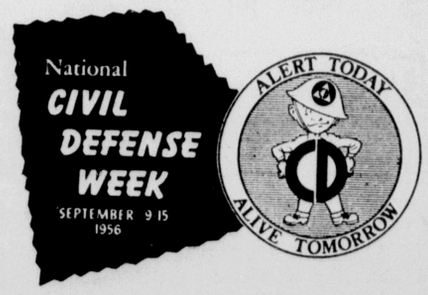

Swimming Pool Plans Prepared For Warren

A swimming pool will be built for Warren if the twenty-eight organizations represented at a meeting in the YMCA last evening carry out their committee assignments with the enthusiasm evidenced. Thirty-three people were present at the meeting called by the Zonta Club and moderated by Judge Alexander C. Flick.

Judge Flick paid tribute to the recreation board, recently created by borough council, and described it as the ideal group to spearhead the project. Bob Wilder, recreation board chairman, reviewed what had been done in past years concerning a pool and explained the problems to be considered.

The group resolved to urge the recreation board to proceed with all reasonable speed to form a citizen's committee to help the board provide a community swimming pool and to report back to this group on the progress made at an October 24 meeting.

As a result, committees will be named from the many organization representatives and the necessary groundwork started.

SWICK SITE AND ITS RELATION TO THE HOMES IN WARREN BOROUGH

The proximity of the Swick site to a large majority of Warren's homes may be seen by a close study of this map. This site has been proposed as a location for a new Warren area high school.

With a bus line available in Warren borough, there would be no need for special school busses within the borough limits. Outside areas must bus their young people no matter where the school is located.

There are no sites within the borough which are large enough to adequately take care of present educational needs, allow for future expansion, and assure plenty of parking space. To create such an area through the purchase and destruction of existing buildings would be prohibitively expensive.

For example, it has been estimated that to buy enough property near the present site to do a limited job would cost about $200,000! And you still would not have enough property for a really modern school with an eye to the future.

You also would be within an already overburdened traffic flow.

* * *

The Swick site includes about thirty acres of land which would provide for any foreseeable need, and probably many that are not foreseeable.

It is not miles outside of Warren. It actually is partly inside the borough limits.

The map is misleading as to distances. You don't walk to school as a bird flies. You must measure distance by the streets. A map also fails to reveal the concentration of population. Large areas on a map are given up to industry and account for a small proportion of your school population.

Our outline of the Swick site is not completely accurate. It is approximate as to outline but accurate as to location. If properly purchased you would enter it off the point of Prospect as it butts onto Fifth Avenue. The gravel banks would be leveled off, and your school would sit on their heights overlooking the town. Back of it would stretch the thirty acres of land.

Our large "X" in the dotted portion indicates about where we believe the school would be constructed, give or take a hundred feet in one direction or another.

We also have placed a broad outline around the portion of Warren which today is so heavily built up with homes that far over half the residences will be found within its borders. The new school would be well within this area.

Add to that area the homes just across the Conewango Creek in the First, Second, and Third Wards. All of them are within easy walking distance of the site.

Go to the South Side and you will find that it is less than a mile and a half from the corner of Wayne and Onondaga to the Swick site.

The West Side young people would have to use the bus line if they did not choose to walk a little over a mile and a half. The Glade Run residents already are over a mile and a half from the present school and would find little change in the distance.

We did not close up the line at the top of the map. The reason is that there are many homes just beyond Quaker rd., all of them about a mile from the site. This section is building up very fast and soon will be sending many young people to our schools. The same is true up Quaker rd.

The demands on a school and the plot upon which it stands are growing. In Warren we will have 444 freshmen enter the school as sophomores next year to replace 253 seniors. It probably will be necessary to have more class periods to accommodate the anticipated 940 students. And this is a conservative figure.

Our high school enrollment now is 884. In two years it will top one thousand and the third year will go even higher. New plants have thrown our birth estimations out of whack and we actually do not know what our future need will be. That is why we suggest a flexible school with plenty of elbow room.

We also must not forget that in order to meet state approval a school and its site not only must conform to standards and regulations in regard to educational, architectural, material, and equipage quality, but they also must meet standards of "usefulness for community activities", as quoted from Act Number 417, passed March 22, 1956.

This is more than a school we are planning. It is a community center.

ST. JOHN'S EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN Church, of Pleasant Township, was organized into an official Lutheran congregation on Sunday evening in First Lutheran Church.

First Lutheran Church's interest in developing a mission congregation in Pleasant Township began many years ago. The Rev. Edward K. Rogers, former pastor, in his 1949 Annual Report to the congregation, recommended that the "Church Council be instructed to further consider the possibility of beginning mission work in the Pleasant Township area." Also, to secure necessary property subject to congregational approval. The recommendation was approved.

Prior to this, an area canvas, conducted by the Rev. McCurtis W. Allison, assistant pastor, revealed a need in this steadily growing area. At its 1950 annual meeting, the congregation authorized the Church council to purchase lots in the area. At a regular meeting of the council held March 19, 1951, approval was granted to purchase two lots costing $1,200. An additional lot to the rear, costing $500.00, was donated by August Gross, Irvine, in 1954. This makes the plot of sufficient size for future building needs.

Worship services began on December 6, 1953, in the Pleasant Township Fire Hall by the Rev. Stephen Stofcheck, Jr., assistant pastor of First Church. In April 1954 services were moved to the Grange Hall and by the end of 1954 there were 40 members on the charter roll.

Pictured here are the charter members, ministers and laymen who participated in the organizational service Sunday.

RETAILERS PARK AND BARGAIN

Parking and bargaining had temperatures up and down at the Warren Retailers meeting at the Blue and White Monday evening.

The hottest issue--an old problem of the retailers and customers--was the parking. The Chamber of Commerce sub-committee is presently engaged in raising funds for the parking authority to construct a parking area on the YMCA tennis courts.

To date $6,825 has been donated by 60 downtown business places in amounts ranging from $30 to $460. The campaign is still open under Chairman Joe Krimmel.

This parking area on Liberty street will accomodate over 30 vehicles and is somewhat a test move in the parking authority's long range program to relieve this problem. The next move, undoubtedly, will be more professional and include outside assistance, surveys, etc.

An October promotion, labeled "Old Fashioned Bargain Days", was also the center of discussion for retailers. The merchants are planning a three-day event offering fall shopping values with several special old fashioned attractions and entertainment for young and old. Promotion chairman is Chester West.

Preliminary discussion on proposed Christmas store hours, Christmastime promotion and the recent Dollar Days sale were also given a place on Chairman Jake Levinson's agenda.
